1. INTRODUCTION

The Water Institute of Southern Africa (WISA) was formed in 1987 when the Southern African branch of the Institute of Water Pollution Control originally founded in 1937, was disbanded. At the beginning of 2000, WISA was incorporated as a Non Profit Company (Section 21) under the Companies Act of 2008. This means that WISA shall use its funds and assets solely to further its stated aims and objectives and no funds or assets shall be distributed to any other person or body. WISA has also been recognised as a Professional Body by SAQA in 2013.

The objectives of the Institute are the promotion and application of scientific and engineering knowledge and management skills in planning, design, construction, operation, maintenance, investigation, research and education in connection with the natural and controlled water cycle. This includes, but is not limited to, the application of scientific, engineering and management skills to all or any hydrology, water resources, river management and flood alleviation, recreation, water supply and distribution, sewerage, sewage and industrial waste treatment, disposal and water pollution control. The activities of the Institute shall be directed to the furtherance of such activities.

The mandate of the Institute shall inter alia be to:

- Encourage communication and a better understanding among scientists, engineers, managers, administrators and communities engaged in the search for and implementation of solutions for water-related projects.
- Encourage and facilitate the exchange of information relating to research and technology for:
 - engineering design, construction, operation, control and management of all water and waste treatment systems (including mining and industrial applications)
 - water quality management in the aquatic environment
 - Social, educational and managerial development.
- Liaise with governmental (central, provincial and local), regional water authorities, industry, NGOs and any other appropriate bodies on all matters relating to the water environment.
- Promote participation and research for the benefit of communities, industry and the environment.
- Arrange forums and establish a database to facilitate the sharing of information.
- Establish and manage a fund to support individual development and capacity building.
